ScholarVision Network™

Broadcast & Licensing Program Guide

Licensing-Ready. Subscription-Enabled. Broadcast-Structured.

Independent media, documentary, and cultural programming are available for broadcast, institutional licensing, and curated distribution.

ScholarVision Network™ is a U.S.-based independent educational broadcast network producing licensing-ready documentary, cultural, and public-interest programming for domestic and international distribution.

ScholarVision Network™ develops original audio and audiovisual programming at the intersection of lived experience, social insight, spiritual-enlightenment, and cultural reflection. All programs are creator-owned and available under non-exclusive licensing agreements.

AVAILABLE PROGRAMMING

Gendered.™

Documentary Program

A groundbreaking documentary series exploring lived experiences across the gender spectrum. Hosted by Dr. Scholar Lee™, the series weaves narrative interviews, social insight, and reflective analysis into a globally relevant cultural archive.

Broadcast Options

- 30-minute broadcast cut (audio)
 - 60-minute extended broadcast cut (audio)
 - Full-length interviews available under separate license

The Black Market™

Field Notes on the Economy of Invisibility

An insightful audio series examining the unseen economies operating beneath visible systems — where identity, pressure, ambition, silence, labor, authorship, and survival intersect.

Through qualitative observation and structured reflection, the program translates lived encounters into cultural documentation suitable for academic, institutional, and public-interest broadcast environments.

Broadcast Options

- 15–30-minute audio episodes

Journey of THEE S.C.H.O.L.A.R.™

A reflective broadcast series presented by Dr. Scholar Lee™, applying THEE S.C.H.O.L.A.R. Framework™ — Service, Create, Honor, Outstanding, Leadership, Authentic, and Resource — to real-world themes, human experiences, and narrative documentation.

The program demonstrates how these principles function as dimensions of value creation within individual development, professional environments, and organizational systems.

Through reflective analysis, cultural observation, and narrative insight, each installment explores how THEE S.C.H.O.L.A.R. Framework™ operates in real contexts where leadership, identity, and institutional growth intersect.

Broadcast Options

- 30–60-minute audio episodes

THEE Prophet Omni-Enlighten-Truth (P.O.E.T.™) Sessions

An enlighten audio series led by XScholarBar™, THEE P.O.E.T.™.

Each session delivers guided prophetic commentary exploring identity, memory, transformation, and spiritual insight through narrative reflection and intuitive discourse.

Drawing from philosophical inquiry, cultural observation, and divination-inspired reflection, the program shares enlightened truths designed for cultural, late-night, and reflective broadcast environments.

Broadcast Options

- 30–60-minute audio episodes

Quest of THEE X™

A reflective broadcast series exploring lived experience through the lens of THEE S.C.H.O.L.A.R. Discipline™.

Each installment examines encounters, relationships, identity shifts, internal reckonings, and external systems — where philosophy meets lived application and discipline become embodied through experience.

Blending reflective narrative, social observation, and embodied insight, the series explores how the rites of THEE S.C.H.O.L.A.R. Discipline™ emerge through moments of authorship, compassion, authority, and personal evolution.

Produced in broadcast-ready format under professional engineering standards, the program is suitable for cultural radio, academic dialogue environments, and international reflective programming blocks.

Broadcast Options

- 30–60-minute audio episodes

The Purple Chapel™

X Reflections™

The Purple Chapel™ is a reflective audio series where X records personal reflections as they unfold in real time.

Episodes capture unscripted reflection monologues shaped by lived experience, spiritual insight, and the evolving movement of truth.

Rather than instructing or directing listeners, the program offers an intimate listening experience where audiences witness philosophical reflection and personal insight as it emerges.

Broadcast Options

- 30–60-minute audio episodes

Benjamin Wealth Trusted Briefings™

An educational program series produced by Benjamin Wealth Enterprises Incorporated™.

The series explores wealth as stability, access, and long-term well-being — covering topics such as financial literacy, housing, credit, real estate, insurance, estate planning, investments, and community economic systems.

Designed for youth, families, entrepreneurs, and professionals alike, Benjamin Wealth Trusted Briefings™ bridges community knowledge and institutional expertise through discussions with financial institutions, housing professionals, legal experts, and community organizations.

Broadcast Options

- 30–60-minute audio episodes

Kyi'Ari Sky™

Raising Kind Leaders™

A family-centered audio program focused on youth well-being, caregiving, education, and leadership development.

Episodes feature educators, advocates, clinicians, and community voices supporting healthier environments for children and families.

Broadcast Options

- 30–60-minute audio episodes
